Twenty-seventh Day of the Season at Guttenburg.

A Pleasant Day Marred by Delays in Starting.

Sweetie, Frolic, Mamie Hay, King Bird and Windsail Winners.

NORTH HUDSON DRIVING PARK, GUTTENBURG, N. J., April 17.—Some excellent racing was witnessed here to-day by a large crowd, which kept twenty-five bookmakers busy. The delays in starting, however, materially lessened the day's enjoyment, and as the favorites, Goldstar and Lizzie C, were beaten for the first two races by Sweetie and Frolic, the crowd became somewhat ill-tempered.

Pickets and Boycott Committees Hard at Work.

Saloon-keepers Asked to Refuse to Sell Beer—The Drivers Pass Resolutions Denouncing the Bosses—The Inside Men Receive Encouraging Reports at Their Meeting—Clarendon Hall Crowded by the Locked-Out Men.

The 3,500 men who were locked out of the seventy-nine breweries in this city yesterday noon but in an early appearance at Clarendon Hall this morning.

Those with whom an EVENING WORLD reporter conversed were quite sanguine of success. They declared that the bosses could not afford to place their immense properties in the hands of new and incompetent men, and that not enough good, competent hands could be obtained to take the places of so large a number of men.

In the mean time the beer trade will suffer from the failure of the brewing, the waste and loss caused by new hands and the boycott. This last-named weapon is greatly relied on to bring the bosses to terms.

It was reported that more than two hundred east side saloon-keepers had sent word to Secretary Herbrand asking where they could get non-pool beer, and declaring their intention of abandoning pool beer as soon as they could obtain the beverage having the stamp and label of the union upon it.

The brewery men now idle are as abundant as a set of men as were ever locked out.

It was reported that the help they required would be sent as soon as possible.
